RUBINCAM LEADS AT BAT

By DAVE CASEY

The Narberth Baseball Club proved better mud horses last Saturday than Bob Paist's Berwyn Pirates and had little trouble in handing the visitors a 7-2 defeat. The game, which was played on field soggy from the effects of an early morning rain, attracted a large crowd and sent the boroughites off on a flying start in their struggle for the second half crown of the Main Line League.

Manager Gene Davis selected as his pitcher Jack Jackson, the University of Pennsylvania hurler who conquered Hildale, and the tall collegian as usual obliged with a sterling performance, blanking the invaders until the ninth inning and allowed only six hits.

Meanwhile the Narberth batsmen found the offerings of Bob Paist's hurler, a newcomer named Brown, very much to their liking, and had no difficulty pounding out thirteen hits for a total of seven runs. The leading swatsmith was Joe Rubincam, with four clean singles out of five times at bat. Barney Slaughter and Bob Martin were close behind with two safeties apiece and Bob Jones had a long double that produced two runs in the first inning. The fielding honors went to two young men named Walker, Bill, the Narberth shortstop, who handled eight chances without an error, and Frank, the Berwyn third baseman, who did equally well with seven chances.

Wynnewood Youth Rescues Man from Drowning

Word of how a Wynnewood youth rescued a man last week from drowning in New Hampshire has been received here. Albert B. Means, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Means, of Montgomery Avenue and Mill Road; Wynnewood, visiting at the summer home of Mrs. S. Earle Haines, of 550 Heath Road, Merion, at Saubornville, N. H., was standing on a wharf at the lake when he saw a man swimming in difficulty.

Jumping into the water in all his clothes, Means reached the man just as he was going under for the third time, and brought him safely to shore, where he was revived. The rescued man was Mrs. Haines' chauffeur, Edward McMahon. The rescue occurred on the first day of Means' visit.

A graduate of Episcopal Academy, Means attended Duke University last year. He gained knowledge of life-saving work as an eagle scout in the Wynnewood Troop.

Noted Cartoonist Talks of His Craft

Charles Sykes Describes Cartoons as 'Editorial in Drawing.'

WAS SPEAKER AT ROTARY

"Cartoons are editorials in drawing," said Charles H. Sykes, in commencing his talk Tuesday before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. "A cartoon must say something."

Mr. Sykes, whose work for the Public Ledger, Life, Collier's and other publications has won him world renown, is a resident of Bala-Cynwyd. He was introduced by Dr. Barclay L. Jones.

The speaker devoted his talk to a history of the cartoon as used to express editorial sentiment—a type of drawing which not only is older than the comic strip cartoon, but which in itself antedates the alphabet. Mr. Sykes referred to drawings of ancient times, and to the cartoon as the foundation of the Chinese alphabet.

Many famous men of the pen-and-ink world were referred to in the course of the talk, beginning with the early English caricaturists. Among American cartoonists Mr. Sykes mentioned Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Nast and Homer Davenport. Most of the conventional figures used in modern cartoons are the creations of Nast and Davenport.

In conclusion, the speaker told of the process by which the drawings (in his case, crayon) are made into printed reproductions. "Some poor souls still think a cartoonist draws a separate cartoon into each copy of a paper," he said. The process, he pointed out, includes a photo of the original, a zinc etching, and finally the matrix and stereotype form. Mr. Sykes answered a number of questions at the close of his talk.

Appoint Ensinger Caretaker at Community Building

Edward Ensinger was appointed caretaker of the Narberth Community Building and grounds at a special meeting of the Borough Council on Monday night. The recommendation was made by the Property Committee, of which William H. Fretz is chairman. The appointment is effective beginning Monday, July 27.

The post was made vacant recently by the removal of William Blackledge. Since then William Newborg has been in charge of the work temporarily. The place carries a salary of $135 per month.

INDORSED BY BOYD

Louis Alonzo Young, former head football coach at the University of Pennsylvania, has accepted an invitation from a group of Main Line citizens to be a candidate for the office of Commissioner of Montgomery County.

Mr. Young, who lives at 410 Grove Place, Narberth, was urged to become a candidate last Friday by a citizens' committee, headed by Lawrence A. Leary, of Penn Wynne.

At a meeting at Norristown on Tuesday night, Mr. Young's candidacy was endorsed by the Montgomery County Round Table Committee, a group formed by State Senator James S. Boyd to oppose County Leader Charles Johnson in his support of his son-in-law, H. Stanley Drake, for reelection as County Commissioner. Mr. Young attended the meeting.

Other signers of the petition presented to Mr. Young were: W. Scott Smith, of Wynnewood; Walter Clothier, Wynnewood; Charles B. Fritz, Morris Wood, Walter Sawyer and Michael Coneen, Merion; Mont H. Wright, Penn Valley; Herbert Woehling, Wilmer Crowell, Dr. Romaine C. Hoffman, William S. Howard and William H. Durbin, Narberth.

The statement of acceptance made by Mr. Young on Monday is as follows:

Narberth Theatre Notes

Warner Oland is a pleasing Oriental detective in "Charlie Chan Carries On" at the Narberth Theatre this Friday and Saturday. Very good entertainment for a warm night. Murders on a round-the-world cruise solved at the last moment by scientific means.

Tallulah Bankhead, new screen star, and the dependable Clive Brook make the best of another triangle plot, "The Tarnished Lady," at Narberth next Monday and Tuesday.

James Cagney and Jean Harlow give remarkably convincing and interesting performances in "The Public Enemy," an unusual gangster story, which is coming to Narberth next Wednesday and Thursday. For cinema-goers tired of the conventional in screen plots, this will prove very much worth seeing.

At the Egyptian

Peter B. Kyne's thrilling story, "Never the Twain Shall Meet," is given a pleasing performance by Conchita Montenegro and Leslie Howard at the Egyptian Theatre this week-end. At the Saturday matinee, in its stead, the feature is "Hook, Line and Sinker," Wheeler and Woolsey comedy.

Of considerable interest is "Curiosities," the new short subject series, one of which appears at the Egyptian this week-end. Also on the surrounding program is another of the Mickey Mouse comedies—termed by some critics American cinema's most original and artistic development since the advent of talkies.

"City Streets," at the Egyptian next Monday and Tuesday, is well acted by Gary Cooper, Paul Lukas, William Boyd, Guy Kibbee and Sylvia Sydney, the new star. Cooper, lanky sharp-shooting Westerner in a carnival shooting gallery, enters complications with a beer-running racketeer king. Lots of excitement. In an accompanying comedy are Bennie Rubin and Eddy Buzzell.

Clive Brook, Charles Rogers, Richard Arlen, Fay Wray and Jean Arthur form an all-star cast in "The Lawyer's Secret," a drama of considerable interest, coming to Cynwyd next Wednesday and Thursday.

In "The Conquering Horde," at the Egyptian next week-end, Richard Arlen, Fay Wray and Ian MacLaren give an interesting performance of Emerson Hough's original story, "North of 36." All about Texas, Indians, cattle and "carpet-baggers." Warranted historically and scenically correct.

Bring 575,000 Beetles to Egyptian Theatre

Conway's Offer, Ticket a Quart, Taken Up Enthusiastically by Residents.

The idea of Joseph Conway, managing director of the Egyptian Theatre, Bala-Cynwyd, to rid the Main Line of Japanese beetles has proved its worth during the past week as 575,000 of the pests were brought to the theatre—in quart jars. This was the response to Mr. Conway's announcement that a free admission to the show would be given for each quart of these dead insects.

Although few like to see the results of their effort go up in smoke, this is exactly what happens to the pests. As soon as they are received at the table in the foyer of the theatre, they are taken outside to the rear of the theatre and burned. Then the jars are smashed and carted away. At this, the transaction is considered FINIS for the theatre and the end of the show marks the end of it for the collector.

Until Wednesday, July 29, this offer will be continued. During this time anyone may use this system to put their beetles to good use. Due to the fact that the beetles might be spilled, the provision is made that they be brought in quart Mason jars with the tops screwed on tightly.

Not only does this offer an easy way to see a good show at the Egyptian, but it is a good method to protect those new shoots of plants which constantly appear and cannot be protected by the ordinary arsenate of lead spray.

A public-spirited citizen has given this incentive to combat this national pest—the Japanese beetle—and it has been accepted. Both young and old are scouring the plants and shrubbery of the surrounding country to procure all the beetles.

Already, in certain districts, there seems to be a scarcity of the insects, but even this makes hardly a dent in the beetle population. There still remain plenty more for every ambitious person to catch to receive free passes to the Egyptian Theatre. And there is still sufficient time.

New Players Group Announces Committees

Subscription Plan of Membership to Be Released Shortly.

WORKING ON A NAME

Although still such an infant that it has not yet been named, the new Players' organization in Narberth has shown rapid growth in the first weeks of its existence. The most recent meeting, held at the home of Mrs. C. Arley Farmer on Woodbine Avenue, which was to have been in the form of a garden party, was held indoors because of the heavy showers, but these were incapable of dampening the enthusiasm of the group which met to learn of the appointment of chairmen and committees.

President W. Russell Green announced the following active committees, stating that chairmen had the privilege of adding to the number of their committeemen should the necessity be felt. The Coaching and Plays Committee, by whose judgment will be selected both the plays and their casts, comprise a number of well-known names: The chairman is Mrs. Henry Frye, with Mrs. C. Arley Farmer, Mrs. H. I. McConnell, Rev. E. J. Bubb, Wallis Boileau, Jr., and Miss E. Burnett on her staff. Chairman of the Scenery Committee is Mrs. James D. Moore, with Clifford Goodwin, L. Fielding Howe, C. Arley Farmer and J. F. Sherron, Jr., as committeemen. Chairman of By-Laws, Mr. Boileau, with E. A. Lane, Mrs. Bernard Keenan, Mrs. Clifford Goodwin and Henry Fry as assistants. Chairman of Costumes is Mrs. Wallis Boileau, Jr., with Mrs. J. R. Aiken and William J. Loughlin assisting. Properties chairman, Mrs. Clifford Goodwin, Mrs. V. O. Krauskop assisting. Name Committee, chairman, Miss Virginia Burgstresser, committeemen, J. D. Sutherland, Mrs. Ewell, Mrs. Charles Dillingham. Chairman of Publicity, Bernard Keenan, Mrs. James D. Moore, assisting. Other committees for which chairmen have been appointed to select their own committees are: Membership, Mrs. John Nash; Hospitality, Mrs. E. A. Lane; Stage Lighting and Sound Effects, V. O. Krauskop; Contact Committee, Mrs. W. Russell Green, and Committee on Arrangements, Arthur L. Cooke.

In a short time the club will be ready to announce its subscription plan of membership which will include tickets to the plays to be produced. The Plays and Name Committees are already at work selecting a name for the club and the first vehicle for its expression. It is expected the first play will be produced late in October.

Another organization meeting will be held the second Thursday in August at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. I. McConnell, Merion Avenue.

M. L. Firms Share in Construction Contracts

The R. H. Johnson Company of Wayne received the contract for the landscape and construction, and the John Albrecht Nurseries of Narberth the planting contract for the sixty-five-acre quadrant at Philadelphia Memorial Park, the new burial park being created in the Chester Valley near Frazer. These contracts, together with the work handled by Wark & Co. of Philadelphia, involve a total expenditure of more than $650,000.

The contracts call for landscape construction, including roadways, drainage and automatic sprinkler system, construction of entrances, buildings, fountains, pools, artesian wells, water supply system and pumping equipment, and planting of various trees, flowers, shrubs, etc.

Edward P. Simon, of Simon & Simon, the architectural firm responsible for the designing of Philadelphia Memorial Park and who also designed many noted Philadelphia buildings, including Fidelity-Philadelphia Building and Strawbridge & Clothier's new structure, in announcing the awarding of the contracts said: "We have decided to start construction of the park ahead of schedule because of the enthusiastic acceptance of the park idea by the public. The portal garden, the first unit of Philadelphia Memorial Park, is now completed and in use. The development of the sixty-five acres in the southwest quadrant will be quite an undertaking, calling as it does for 130,000 cubic yards of excavation and dirt removal, four miles of hard surfaced roads, eight miles of cut stone curbing, 31,000 square feet of sodding, 54 acres of lawn building, four miles of drainage lines, six artesian wells, pumping plant and distribution system, fountains and pools and the planting of thousands of trees, shrubs and plants."

Foresee Exciting Races at Hatfield Saturday

More spectacular even than last week's fast harness racing card at the Village Farms in Langhorne will be the fine program of running and harness events to be held over the Montgomery County Fair grounds at Hatfield this Saturday afternoon.

With virtually the same list of entries in the harness races as participated in the Village Farm events, augmented by three snappy running contests, the horse racing fans will be given another pretentious speed card.

A Main Liner in the Race

The announcement that Louis Alonzo Young has cast his hat in the ring for the office of County Commissioner is one which will doubtless be welcomed by residents of the Main Line with few exceptions.

Mr. Young did not seek the candidacy. He was approached by a group of prominent Main Line residents who urged him to run for the office. They feel that Mr. Young is the type of man whom decent citizens will support without any reservations. They point out that his business career as an engineer eminently qualifies him for the post. The fact that he is not a politician and hitherto has not been engaged in politics is in his favor.

The fight for the County Commissionerships promises to be most interesting this year. The most sensational development to date is the defection of State Senator James Slingluff Boyd from the organization ranks in the county. This resulted when Senator Boyd charged County Leader Charles Johnson with "nepotism" in placing his son-in-law, H. Stanley Drake, on the ticket again as a candidate for re-election as a County Commissioner. Senator Boyd has gone ahead with the work of forming his own organization to beat Johnson and keep his son-in-law out of an elective office.

Organization supporters point to the accomplishments of the present commissioners—reduction of the County tax rate, erection of the new Court House at Norristown out of current funds, and the maintenance of a Pay-as-You-Go policy—as the reason why they should be returned to office.

And these are reasons which carry much weight. But, according to the Boyd group, the other side of the picture is this: All these accomplishments were not the work alone of the present commissioners. They have been in office but a little over a year, both Drake and Ridgeway having been appointed by Judge Williams who, incidentally, is related by marriage to Drake. Million dollar court houses are not built out of the funds saved in one year. The pay-as-you-go policy has been in effect in the County before the present commissioners held office. As for the reduction of the County tax rate, that was a dead man's promise, made by the late commissioner, Daniel F. Stout, which had of necessity to be carried out by his successors as soon as the court house was completed.

Senator Boyd, by lending his support to Mr. Young through the recently formed Montgomery County Round Table Committee, makes the former coach a formidable figure. "Lou" has a large following of his own throughout the County and, with the additional support lent him by this organized group, is a candidate who may well cause the regular organization leaders considerable anxiety.

One thing, however, is certain. Lower Merion, Narberth and the other Main Line communities in the County, despite the leadership of a popular group of organization workers, are inclined to retain their political independence. They will vote, more or less, as they jolly well please. And the chances are, with one of their own in the running, that other candidates will get meager support from this section.

Main Line voters are becoming increasingly insistent on the election of a commissioner from this section, without any particular criticism of the present group. Such a demand should be heeded either by "Boss" Johnson or by his critics. This column has proposed the name of Fred C. Peters for Congressman, and Mr. Peters is a staunch Johnson man. We feel that the time has come to look beyond the organization for the representation Lower Merion and Narberth have wanted for many years.

Keep Down the Weeds

A movement, which is being sponsored by the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce and which should be taken up throughout the Main Line, is the effort to clear vacant lots of weeds.

Not only does an overgrown lot present a bad appearance, but it appears less desirable as a saleable property. There is also the menace to health. The lot acts as a breeding place for disease since many obnoxious weeds flourish. The hay fever season will be coming along soon and its effects can be lessened considerably if weeds are kept under control.

Real estate operators and individual property owners should all co-operate and keep down the weeds.

Hole in one. Munroe H. Anders, of Ardmore, joined the select few last Saturday who have made a hole in one on the golf course. His was made on the fourteenth green of the St. Davids Golf Club, a 170-yard hole. Mr. Anders, an attorney, practices law at Norristown.

Bang went the window. An unidentified motorist, driving west on Lancaster Pike last week, piloted his machine into the plate glass window of the real estate office of Clarence J. Gallagher at Lancaster and Church Road, Ardmore. Backing away from the wreckage, he promptly drove on, according to a spectator.

They played cricket! The Merion Cricket Club and the Philadelphia Cricket Club justified their names last Sunday when they engaged in a cricket match at Haverford, much to the diversion of the crowd which sat on the club's veranda and sipped tea. All the paraphernalia of the game, wickets, bails, bats, balls, as well as esoteric clothing, such as a straw hat and "duster" worn by the referee and a silk hat, were in evidence. The score was found to be 117 to 110 favor of Merion at the conclusion, but there was some doubt as to the correctness of this verdict.

Aftermath. The American Red Cross reports that $45,057 was spent for relief work and rehabilitation in the section of Devon damaged by the fireworks explosion of April 3, 1930, in which ten persons were killed. Of this sum, $25,915 was spent in repairing wrecked and damaged homes. Forty-one thousand five hundred and twenty-five dollars of the fund was raised by a special appeal.

Again head. W. B. Touchton, of Bryn Mawr, was re-elected president of the Montgomery County Fire Police Association at the annual meeting held last week at Pottstown. Charles J. Desert and James Murphy, of Bryn Mawr, were elected to membership in the association.

Economist tells how. Stuart Chase, economist and director of the Labor Bureau and Consumers' Research, advocated adoption of a national plan to control and guide basic industries, govern investment of capital and keep purchasing power in step with production as a means of overcoming the economic depression in an address Sunday at the Bryn Mawr conference on Labor and Depression being conducted at Bryn Mawr College.

Lost: Driver, truck and cows! "Look for nine cows lost between Philadelphia and Ardmore," was the message flashed over police teletypes this week from Camden. It seems a truck loaded with nine cows driven by one John Britschneider, of Camden, left Lancaster at noon last Saturday. The mooing cargo passed through Ardmore in the evening but since nothing has been heard or seen of truck, cows or driver.

Left $75,000 estate. Dr. Horace H. Jenks, of Haverford, who died July 5, left an estate of $75,000. By the terms of the will $15,000 was left in trust to three sons, William F., Edward N. and Robert D. Jenks, and the residue of the estate to his widow, Mrs. Eloise N. Jenks. Medical books are bequeathed to Dr. Frederic Sharpless, of Rosemont, and Dr. Percival Nicholson, of Ardmore.

Misplaced car. Miss Marguerite Boyd, head of a dancing studio at the Bala Apartments, City Line, reported to Ocean City police Monday that her car had been stolen from its parking space on the left side of Ninth Street, a block from the boardwalk. Twenty minutes later, after sending out fliers and teletype messages, police found the car, parked on the right side of Ninth Street, two blocks from the boardwalk.

When Cotter's Market declares that it offers "quality foods without premium prices," it means that it is able to purchase foods perceptibly better and to sell them at a price that is consistently no higher than charged by competitors. To illustrate: Each Friday this summer you will find that our prices for fish are as moderate as the market affords. And yet the fish we buy is different from the kind sold in a large number of stores in the Philadelphia metropolitan area, in that it is really fresh, and not frozen. Try our halibut, butter fish, fresh mackerel, fresh trout and sea bass, and see for yourself!

The same rule applies to our fruits and vegetables, carefully selected, and offered at prices as low as the market each day affords.

Those portions of the Borough of Narberth not included within the business districts shall be known as "Residence Districts" and within the confines of which there shall be erected, altered, reconstructed, removed into or maintained no buildings except dwellings, tenements, private garages, educational buildings and public buildings. Nor shall there be conducted within the confines of "Residence Districts" any other form of business whatsoever on any lot or piece of ground or in any building now erected or to be erected except farming, gardening, and the practice of professions, without permission therefor from the Board of Adjustment. No show windows are to be employed or used and no signs larger than eight (8) inches by eighteen (18) inches are to be placed on any building or set up on any property.

SECTION 2. Heights of buildings. Residence Districts: In residence districts the heights of buildings shall be as follows: Private garages shall not be over two stories; dwellings not over two stories, except that a third story may be built within a sloping roof; tenements not over three stories or thirty-five (35) feet in all; all other types not over two stories or thirty-five (35) feet, excepting towers on public buildings.

Business Districts: In business districts the heights of buildings shall be as follows: Business buildings shall not be over four stories or forty-five (45) feet; dwellings or tenements three stories or thirty-five (35) feet; educational and public buildings and garages two stories or thirty-five (35) feet; amusement buildings one story or thirty (30) feet for the auditorium portion thereof.

SECTION 4. Open spaces.

Residence Districts: In residence districts where dwellings or tenements are erected on any lot there shall be kept and maintained an open space not less than sixty-five (65) per cent. of the total area of the lot, except, however, that where a tenement is erected on a corner lot with two street frontages, the open space may be not less than fifty-five (55) per cent. of the total area of such lot. Where educational and/or public buildings are erected on any lot, an open space shall be kept and maintained of not less than fifty-five (55) per cent. of the total area of such lot, provided, however, that where educational and/or public buildings are erected on a corner lot with two street frontages, the open space shall be not less than fifty (50) per cent. of the total area of such lot.

Business Districts: In business districts where dwellings and/or tenements are erected on any lot there shall be kept and maintained an open space of not less than twenty-five (25) per cent. of the total area of such lot, except that in the case of corner lots with two street frontages, the open space may be not less than fifteen (15) per cent. of the total area of such lots. In the business districts all other types of buildings may occupy the entire lot subject to restrictions as to access and set-backs for the walls with openings, except that no building shall be erected or altered closer to any property line than may be permitted by any ordinance heretofore enacted or to be enacted relating to building regulations, fire rules, etc.

SECTION 5. Setbacks from front property line.

In all other types of buildings, no portion of such buildings shall be erected within sixty (60) feet of the centre line of the street, except that in the case of a garage facing on a street at the opposite end of the lot from the main structure, the garage shall have a setback of not less than ten (10) per cent. of the depth of the lot, plus one-half the width of the street.

Business District: In the business districts no portion of any type of building shall project within ten (10) feet of the curb line of the roadway, including the steps, bay windows, or other overhangs; except, however, that cornices over ten (10) feet above the curb level may project fifteen (15) inches.

The plans therefor shall be submitted to the Building Committee of Council (or such other body as may be designated by Council) for approval in each case, and lack of suitable appearance or substantial character may be sufficient reason for withholding the building permit.

A Timely Remedy

My clocks they had a tantrum,
Not one of them would go,
And though I had all three of them
The time I did not know.

I had sent them to the jeweler
To put them in repair,
But they were none the better
For the time that they spent there.

I'll dose them all with kerosene!
It was a happy thought,
And you would be surprised to see
The miracle it wrought.

I used to dread the silence
When none of them would go,
But now they all tick merrily,
The time I always know.

So, if you're having trouble
With clocks that will not work,
Just give them all a dose of oil
And none of them will shirk.

Lake Champlain, Unrivalled in Scenic Beauty, Makes an Ideal Destination for Motor Tour

Of the scores of mountain-bordered lakes scattered through vast summer playgrounds of New York State, Lake Champlain is unrivalled in charm and scenic beauty. Over excellent highways that border both the east and west shores of this lake the Keystone Automobile Club has outlined a delightful tour for vacationists.

"The entire journey can be covered in approximately 1000 miles," says Joseph Murphy, manager of the Ardmore branch of the motor club. "The tour also offers an opportunity for a side trip to Montreal and the homeward journey leads through Vermont and the delightful Berkshire Mountains."

From Ardmore the tour leads through Bryn Mawr, where State route 23 is met and followed to Gulph Mills. From here the State highway is used to U. S. Route 122, where a right turn carries the travelers through Bridgeport, Norristown and Montgomeryville to Doylestown. Here a left turn into U. S. Route 611 leads north through Easton to Martins Creek. Just beyond this town a right turn is made into State Route 827, which is followed to the first concrete intersection, where a left turn leads through Richmond to Mt. Bethel. Here U. S. Route 611 is again met and used to the Delaware Water Gap. From this point the tour continues straight ahead over State Route 302, which is a short cut to Stroudsburg. Here a right turn into U. S. Route 209 leads through Dingmans Ferry to Port Jervis, N. Y.

From here the tour leads north in U. S. Route 9 along the majestic Hudson, through Tarrytown, Peekskill and Poughkeepsie to Rhinebeck, where a left turn carries the travelers to Rhinecliff, where the river is crossed to Kingston. Following the Storm King Highway, U. S. Route 9W, the tourists pass the Catskills en route to Albany and Mechanicsville. Here the highway bears away from the Hudson and leads inland to Saratoga Springs in the heart of a delightful resort region. From this point State Route 10 is used to Lake George, where U. S. Route 9 is met and followed through quaint old Chestertown, Schroon Lake and Elizabethtown to Ausable Chasm, one of the scenic points on the shore of Lake Champlain. Following the contour of the lake shore the highway winds through Valcour, Plattsburg and Chazy to Rouses Point. From here a side trip can be taken to picturesque Montreal forty-six miles northward.

On the homeward trip, from Rouses Point the ferry is used to Alburg, Vt., where State Route 2 is met and followed through Isle LaMotte, Grand Isle and South Hero, all regions of scenic grandeur in Lake Champlain. From here U. S. Route 7 is followed southward through Vermont, en route to Burlington, the peak of Mount Mansfield and the Camel's Hump can be seen towering above the Green Mountains to the eastward. Through Shelburne and historic Middlebury the journey reaches Rutland, an attractive resort section. Continuing over U. S. Route 7 the travelers pass Manchester and giant Mt. Equinox en route to Bennington. The next town of Williamstown forms the gateway to the Berkshires. Pittsfield, Lenox, Great Barrington and Canaan are among the delightful resorts reached in the Berkshires. From Canaan the tour continues over State Routes 121 and 4 to Amenia, where State Route 22 is met and followed through Pawling and Brewster to White Plains, where the Bronx Boulevard leads south to Fordham Road. Here a right turn leads to Dyckman Street Ferry and the remainder of the trip continues over the same highways used on the outbound journey.

Four inches of excess rainfall for the year.

And still falling.

Almost enough to wipe out that deficiency of six and a half inches of last year.

Stalk borers are pesky things. Notice a wilted stem of delphinium or dahlia; search along the wilted portion and find a small hole, slit up the stem and find the worm that has done the damage. The hole is where the pretty moth laid the egg for the larva to build her home and feed on your plant. Kill the borer of course and see that all hollow stalks are burned or removed from the garden as that is where the insects winter over. Clean cultivation with no rubbish around will help to defeat the stalk borers.

Bulb importers want their orders before July first. They order a stock of tulips and narcissi for fall delivery, but if you want newer varieties or want to make certain that you get the tulips and early small bulbs on your list better get the order in.

In planning new beds and borders to be built and planted in fall arrange bulbs and annuals together or perennials and annuals in the same bed. Bulbs and perennials do not mix well; the tulips last but a couple of years and the perennials must be divided in time so that one or the other is destroyed in the revamping. Biennials may be planted in bulb beds as they are treated as hardy annuals, being replanted each year.

Narcissi are more permanent than tulips; will stand more shade and make a fine companion planting with shrubs and small trees.

Lilies fit well on the edge of shaded woody places among small shrubs, azaleas and such. Madonna and regal lilies may be planted in perennial borders, but most all others like the companionship of other plants to shade the soil and a chance to get their head in the sun.

Many of the lilies flower in July so that if we do not have to go to Bar Harbor or the Riviere for the summer we may enjoy them in our gardens. Some varieties are available in spring, some in fall and some in early winter.

A nurseryman made us a present of a potted plant of trailing arbutus and a potted shortia galacifolia, both in beautiful condition. When these plants and other beautiful natives are available for our wild flower gardens, grown in pots, we will have less need to worry about their being exterminated by collectors who have no respect for their future (the plant's future).

Robins, thrushes and warblers are our best friends to rid trees of leaf-eating insects. The wren earns his pay on smaller insects, but the woodpeckers do a valuable service in going after destructive borers in the trees' trunks and branches.

Help feed the birds and they'll help to feed you.

Killing Beetles Advocated as Only Sure Method of Control; Spraying Drives Them Afield

By FRANK A. SCHREPPER

The Japanese beetle is a serious and vicious menace chiefly because of three facts. First, like many other insects, it is amazingly and distressingly fertile, the mating of a single pair resulting under favorable conditions, in the production of hundreds of individuals the next season. Therefore, every living beetle is the potential parent of incredible numbers of beetles in the space of three or four years. Second, they are strong fliers; they can and do travel relatively large distances in a day, and can move freely about. Therefore to drive them from one place is likely to widen the scope of their activities. Third, unlike many insects, the Japanese beetle is relatively omnivorous; it feeds on a very large number of kinds of plants.

Because of these, and several other characteristics, there is only one way to control the beetles—that is, to KILL them. The surest way to kill them is to catch them and destroy them by burning or some other equally effective means. Every dead beetle means hundreds less next year, and thousands and tens of thousands less the following years.

Spraying with arsenate of lead and similar substances protects many plants from attack, but it kills no beetles unless they eat the sprayed foliage. Reasons two and three given above make spraying ineffective as a means of controlling them by killing them. It may readily be observed that when some plants are sprayed, the beetles promptly feed on others. Even if you spray all of the plants on your place they simply move to your neighbor's, and if they spray, the beetles are driven farther afield. They can and do eat many wild plants, weeds, trees and shrubs. Spraying, therefore, is protection for the sprayed plants, but drives the beetles into uninfested regions. What is needed is to destroy the beetles whenever and wherever they are present. A most effective method is the use of powdered arsenate of lead used on lawns. Your gardener or nurseryman, or seedsman will do that for you. It will protect your lawn and kill the grubs. But the adult, or flying beetle, must be caught to be destroyed. Contact insecticides; that is, those that kill on contact, are relatively ineffective, as the beetle is nicely armored. Stomach poisons are effective only when the beetle eats foliage coated with poisons. BUT EVERY BEETLE IN A TRAP IS A DEAD BEETLE, and every dead beetle this year means hundreds less next year. If, like some insects, the beetle could feed only on a few plants, we could starve him to death by spraying his favorite food. But drive the Japanese beetle from your roses and he goes to your zinnias, or cherries, or hollyhocks, or peaches, or any one of a dozen other plants. And even if you succeed in driving him away entirely, his children and grandchildren will be back in countless millions in the years to come. By all means spray your favorite plants and protect them from the unsightly ravages of feeding beetles. But get out your traps, or buy some; catch beetles, hundreds of them, thousands of them! Destroy them, and they won't be back to bother you with the family.

The beetles have a great start on us, but who cannot remember when the common house fly was a fearful and disgusting nuisance? The house fly is rapidly disappearing among us, because we all got together—and SWATTED!

It is argued that traps attract beetles. So much the better—it attracts them to their death! And the only good beetle is a dead beetle!

There are good traps, poor traps and worthless traps. The writer is not advertising beetle traps, but he is advertising the fact that in the last twenty-four hours he has dispatched three quarts of beetles in three traps. Simple mathematics and a knowledge of insect fecundity indicate that within five years these three quarts of beetles would have resulted in millions of beetles being born and coming to visit with him in his garden. But not now! Spray to protect, but trap to exterminate.

Movie Bottled-Beetle Ticket Offer Ends Soon

Next Wednesday, July 29, will be the last night for redemption of beetles for tickets of admission at the Egyptian Theatre. Managing Director Joseph Conway announced yesterday. Until then, the offer holds good: one ticket for each covered quart Mason jar, filled with Japanese beetles.

Public response to the offer made two weeks ago has been prompt and large. Beetles have been presented by the gallon. One boy displayed considerable ingenuity by collecting seventeen quart jars of them; although theatre employees had considerable

Playground News

The annual hopscotch tournament was held last Friday at the Narberth Community Playground. Among the twenty enthusiastic children who entered the competition were: Norma Dorsey, Anna Donahue, Peggy Lynne, James Maston, Frances Metzrath, Winnie Sleet, Marie Lynne, Margaret Duffy, George Anderson, Teddy Ferin, Beatrice Case, Elliott Morse, Anna Bienny, Adelle Daubert, Sam White, Anita McFarland, Julia Hess and Margaret Shaffer.

The entire event was marked by very close competition. When the finals were played the four contestants still eligible were Anna Donahue, Julia Hess, Marie Lynne and George Anderson, each of the players being encouraged by their loyal rooters.

After a close struggle, George Anderson succeeded in vanquishing his feminine opponents.

Today the tournament for the younger children will be a jackstones contest.

A new and distinct sport which the playground is sponsoring this year is a soft ball league for the older girls. The four teams are captained by Ethel Voight, Lois Maltby, Alice Callahan and Elizabeth Kriebel. Thus far, Lois Maltby's team is leading the league.

The volley ball league is composed of the same four teams. However, in this league the honors go to Elizabeth Kriebel's team.

In order to add to the interest of these leagues, games will be played with teams representing other playgrounds. Next Wednesday, the Havelford Playground team will oppose the Narberth team in both volley ball and soft ball.

For those who are especially interested in handicraft, an effort is being made to offer something entirely new in the way of projects. Leather key cases, napkin rings, belts and pocket-books are all being made. Needless to say the enthusiasm for this new field of handicraft is tremendous.

This afternoon a paddle tennis tournament will be held for the older girls.

BASEBALL LEAGUE

On the first lap of the playground baseball league, two teams are battling for first place, the Cards and the Midgets. They met on Wednesday afternoon and, after a heated nine innings of real baseball, the Midgets were on top, 5 to 4. Burgess pitched fine ball for the losing Cards and Keim, who has been hitting with sustained power for the Midgets, was a tower of strength to the winners. The Tigers easily defeated the Narmers in a long drawn out contest.

In the Junior League the Wildcats took undisputed possession of first place by defeating the Eagles by a score of 13-6. The Park Juniors won their first game of the season by defeating the Aces, 9-8.

The league standing is as follows:

SENIOR LEAGUE

	W.	L.	Pct.
Cardinals	4	1	.800
Midgets	4	1	.800
Tigers	2	4	.333
Aces	1	3	.250

JUNIOR LEAGUE

Jones and Nixon Win Paddle Tennis Tournament

Allen Jones and David Nixon battled their way through a host of entries to win the paddle tennis tournament held last Thursday on the playground. A senior and a junior boy were paired off to play together.

The following were entered: Joe O'Conner and William Fittipaldi, Donahue and Weir, Ross and McDevit, Baker and Crumb, Shea and O'Connor, Jr., Gallagher and Stout, Mahan and Chain, Richards and Griffis, Gilroy and Anderson, Keim and Evans, Burgess and Finn, Livingston and Cook, Stroup and Dixon, Jones and Nixon.

Tom Donahue and Jack Weir advanced to the finals and in a very exciting match were defeated by Jones and Nixon.

In the Theater

The repertory for the coming week at the Hedgerow Theatre, Moylan-Rose Valley, opens on Tuesday night with the second performance of the Moliere piece which will be introduced in the Moylan playhouse tomorrow night, "A Physician in Spite of Himself," a comedy of droll piquancies by the celebrated Frenchman who has been the inspiration and source of many English comic authors.

The play for Wednesday will be a return after a brief absence of O'Neill's "The First Man," in which domestic tragedy of two people who love each other is counteracted by the satiric comedy presentation of a bigoted New England family. William Price plays the role of the husband explorer and Dudley Vaughan has the highly emotional role of the wife. For Thursday evening Musselman's play of theatrical life, "Merry-Go-Round," in which uproarious farce pauses occasionally to concern itself with more serious ambitions. In the cast are Jasper Deeter, Frances Torchiana and Joseph Taulane in important roles. Friday night's show is Perry Ivins' "Happy Ending," a comedy by a margin. In the principal parts are Carl Reukauff, Dudley Vaughan, Dorothy Willard and Marshall Gatchell.

Saturday evening's play will be "The Solitaire Man," a thriller revolving about the extraordinarily clever maneuvers of a group of thieves, set in an airplane riding from Le Bourget to Croydon. Carl Reukauff has the title role and Frances Torchiana, Catherine Rieser, Dorothy Willard, Joseph Taulane and Harry Bellaver comprise the body of the supporting cast.

Tonight's show at Hedgerow is also "Solitaire Man."

Lou Young to Run for County Commissioner

have received your petition, that I be a candidate for County Commissioner of Montgomery County, and have given serious thought to the subject.

"Entering public life of a political nature carries with it great responsibilities. I believe that no sacrifice is too great for any man to make at this time to place our governmental offices into a position where the general public will have an increasing and substantial respect for their governing officers.

"I fully realize that Montgomery is one of the greatest counties outside the municipalities of the nation, and that the office of County Commissioner is the greatest governing element in the county. It is my belief that too little attention has been given in the past to the magnitude this particular office occupies in the economics of the county. It is now time, in this hour of commercial agony, when men and women are in actual need that we do everything to restore public confidence.

"The people of this county will no longer tolerate the high officers of the county being political footballs. It is time for business to enter into government, and if elected I promise to take business methods into the office of County Commissioner.

"It is my duty and my pleasure to have my name presented to the people for their decision at the coming election and I shall strive to give earnest, honest and unflinching effort to carry on the duties of the office of County Commissioner, which as an engineer and business executive, I will fill to the best of my ability in the interest of all."

Signed,
LOUIS A. YOUNG.

At the present time Mr. Young, or "Lou" as he is known to his many friends, is contract manager for the Turner Construction Company. His other business connections have been district engineer in Pennsylvania for the Portland Cement Company and highway engineer for the Atlantic Refining Company.

Entering the University of Pennsylvania when 17, Mr. Young was captain of the football team his senior year and was also a member of the wrestling team. He graduated in the class of 1914 in civil engineering.

He returned to the university that fall as freshman coach and in 1920 was assistant varsity coach. He was appointed head coach in 1923, a post he held until 1929, during which time many fine football teams were produced at the university. He resigned in 1929 to devote more time to his business. During 1930 he was assistant to Sidney Hutchinson, chairman of the Council on Athletics at the university, which was done away with by the institution of the Gates plan. He has no affiliations at present with Pennsylvania.

A resident of Montgomery County for more than ten years, Mr. Young has lived in Narberth since 1924 and before that in Glenside.

He is married and has five children: Louis, Jr., 13; Mary, 10; Barbara, 8; John, 6, and Stewart, 4.

Christian Science Topic

"Truth" is the subject of the lesson-lesson to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, July 26. The Golden Text is, "Thus saith the Lord: I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth; and the mountain of the Lord of hosts the holy mountain" (Zechariah 8:3).

Among the citations from the Bible is the following: "And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity" (Isaiah 33:24).

The lesson-lesson also includes passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one of which reads: "Truth never made error necessary, nor devised a law to perpetuate error. The supposed laws which result in weariness and disease are not His laws, for the legitimate and only possible action of Truth is the production of harmony" (p. 183).

Narberth Again?

—That is what four motorists from the Main Line borough wondered when they reached Nyack, New York, Sunday, on their way to see Mickey Walker train at Orangeburg. For near each other they saw two familiarly named stores: a cigar store—H. Davis, and a drug store—Shea's.

In the group were Bill Fabian, Tony Lewis, Dominick Julian and John "Granite Head" Mulligan.

Next Week's Games

This Saturday the Narberth Baseball Club will oppose Lansdowne away. On Monday the Girard Estate will furnish the opposition on the playground, and on Wednesday the Main Line Tigers, a colored aggregation, will face Gene Davis' men.

Baltimore Black Sox Blank Narberth 6-0

The brilliant pitching of Pud Flornoy, giant southpaw of the Baltimore Black Sox, held the Narberth team helpless Wednesday night and the borough nine consequently went down to defeat, 6-0.

Flornoy was master of the situation throughout, limiting Narberth to five scattered hits and fanning six.

The dazzling fielding feat of Third Baseman Warfield and First Baseman Thomas thrilled the large crowd and aided Flornoy's shutout performance in no small way. Lundy and Hallway were the outstanding hitters of the evening for the visitors.

Jack Jackson was the starting pitcher for Narberth and although hit hard in the first and seventh, pitched a creditable game considering the high reputation of the visitors.

Bill Reynolds finished the game, breezing through the eighth and ninth without serious trouble.

The fielding feature for the Narberth Club was Bob Gilfillan's one-hand leaping catch of Warfield's hot liner in the second inning.

Narberth Opens Second Half with a Victory

Narberth went into the lead in the first inning when Brown got off to a bad start by walking Harry Francis. Gilfillan followed with a perfect sacrifice bunt and after Slaughter fied out, Martin singled and Jones' long double gave the borough club two runs. Concentrated hitting, Pitcher Brown's wildness and a terrible muff of a fly ball by J. Walker allowed Narberth to add three runs in the second and two in the seventh, giving them a commanding lead.

Meanwhile Berwyn had been swinging wildly and ineffectually at Jackson's shoots, but the Narberth moundsman kept their few hits well scattered and until the ninth they did no scoring. In the ninth, however, a base on balls to Collier, J. Walker's double and Gilfillan's fumble of Brown's grounder followed by Jackson's wild throw home allowed the invaders to score two runs.

What Is Coal?

Webster says: "Mineralized vegetable matter, used in its hardened form as fuel."

One step further: What is Thompson's Anthracite coal?

—It is a harder form of coal, which burns longer, thereby saving money and, at the same time, saving time in stoking the furnace.

When regulated correctly (and we're glad to advise you), our anthracite will burn longer in your furnace than ordinary grades of coal. Save time . . . save money: Ask us for information NOW.

C. K. Macnichol, of Narberth Hall Apartments, Narberth, passenger representative of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Philadelphia, will be placed on the Honor Roll this Saturday after a service of 52 years and 8 months. He is one of the most widely known passenger men in the East and has had a notable career.

Starting as a ticket clerk in the office of the auditor of passenger receipts, Fourth Street, Philadelphia, in 1877, Mr. Macnichol was later transferred to the General Passenger Department, where he worked as stenographer and advertising clerk under Frank N. Barksdale, advertising agent. In this position he became associated with the publishers and editors of

Rev. H. C. Shindle, Civil War Vet, Passes

Funeral Services Held Wednesday at Home of His Sister in Narberth.

IN GETTYSBURG BATTLE

The Rev. Henry Clay Shindle, one of the few surviving Civil War veterans of the Main Line, died Tuesday night at the age of 92, at the home of his sister, Mrs. A. H. Durboraw, 125 Elmwood Avenue, Narberth.

Funeral services were held there Wednesday evening in charge of the Rev. Cletus A. Senft, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, of Narberth. Burial was at the Woodward Hill Cemetery, Lancaster, yesterday morning.

Born December 10, 1838, at Lancaster, Mr. Shindle graduated from Gettysburg College and from the Gettysburg Theological Seminary.

His college career was interrupted during the summer of 1863 when he enlisted as a member of the Emergency Regiment recruited at the college and served throughout the Gettysburg campaign. The regiment was disbanded in the fall and he returned to his studies.

His first charge after ordination as a Lutheran minister was at Minersville, Pa. He later served as a pastor at Gettysburg, Philadelphia, Reading.

Helga Wohlert Injured In Ocean City Storm

Miss Helga Wohlert, of Narbrook Park, was among those who were injured at Ocean City during the sudden and violent storm on Tuesday afternoon. Miss Wohlert was badly bruised by a piece of a lifeboat which was tossed about by the gale. She was taken to the hospital and brought home on Wednesday by her father, A. E. Wohlert.

Miss Wohlert, together with her sister, Patience, and nine other members of the Alpha Gamma Chi Sorority have been occupying a cottage at Ocean City for the past three weeks.

Hilldale Here Again Next Wednesday Evening

Narberth fans who enjoyed the previous games with Johnny Drew's strong Hilldale Club will be glad to hear that Manager Gene Davis has arranged another contest with the famed colored nine.

This game will be played at the playground next Wednesday evening, August 5. As each team won one of the earlier contests, Hilldale capturing the first one, 8 to 4, and Narberth the second by a score of 5 to 1, Wednesday's game will decide the series winner this season and consequently should be well worth witnessing. Other interesting games will be played this Saturday with Bryn Mawr, a Main Line League contest, and on Monday night when the Philadelphia Grays will furnish the opposition.

Manager Gene Davis also announced last week that he has secured the services of Jack Jefferies, well known to all Narberth fans. Jack will probably be used at first base and should, if he lives up to past performances, strengthen the team considerably.

Lansdowne Bows to Borough Nine 5-4

Reynolds Pitches Fine Game for Narberth, Allowing 2 Earned Runs.

BY DAVE CASEY

Gene Davis' Narberth boys took a little journey over to Lansdowne last Saturday and had a pleasant afternoon handing a drubbing to their easiest league victims by a score of 5 to 4. It was the third defeat inflicted on Ed Sullivan's gang by Davismen this season while the losers have yet to gain their first triumph over the Borough boys.

Bill Reynolds was on the hill for the borough nine and he pitched a better game than the score indicates as he held Lansdowne to seven hits and allowed only two earned runs. The other two Lansdowne runs were presented by them without a base hit on their part in the seventh inning. A base on balls, one of George Babb's famed throws,

Narberth Fire Co. Gets New Apparatus

American-La France Combination Chemical and Hose Wagon Delivered.

COST BOROUGH $4800

A new American LaFrance type 91 combination chemical and hose wagon apparatus was delivered to the Narberth Fire Company this week.

The apparatus, which cost $5000, with an allowance of $200 on the old Autocar, was authorized by the Borough Council at its March meeting.

Equipped with two forty-gallon chemical tanks, the new machine will be much used principally for small fires where water is not required.

It is furnished with an 82 horsepower engine which provides ample power to propel the apparatus at high speeds. Additional features of the new apparatus are four-wheel brakes, a Foamite hand fire extinguisher for use in extinguishing fires in highly inflammable liquids and materials, and a "Rough Rider" soda acid type extinguisher for use on ordinary free-burning fires.

The equipment of the Narberth Fire Company now includes three major pieces of apparatus in addition to the chief's car. These are: American LaFrance hook and ladder truck, American LaFrance 750-gallon pumper, the new American LaFrance apparatus described above, and the chief's car equipped with two portable extinguishers, door opener and pinch bar.

Work of Legion Is Subject at Rotary

The work done by the American Legion for the disabled veterans was the subject of the talk of Charles I. Engard, State commander of the Legion, at the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club on Tuesday.

Mr. Engard cited the $5,000,000 endowment fund, schools, hospitals and homes as examples of the work the Legion is doing. "The American Legion has done more for disabled veterans than the United States Government," the speaker claimed.

Wildly Western is "Conquering Horde," in which Richard Arlen and Fay Wray give pleasing characterizations at the Egyptian this week-end. Lots of excitement. Authentic historic touches.

Carl Laemmle's Universal picture, "Bad Sister," based on a novel by Booth Tarkington, will be the Egyptian's show Monday and Tuesday. In it are Conrad Nagel, Sidney Fox, Zasu Pitts, "Slim" Summerville and Bert Roach.

The German-made dramatic talking picture, "Bride 68" ("The Country Without Women"), starring Conrad Veidt, famous for his performances in "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" and the "Man Who Laughs," in his first appearance in German films after his return from Hollywood, is now on view at the Europa. "Bride 68" brings to the screen for the first time Veidt's voice in English talking sequence.

Marionettes Comings

Of unusual interest is a marionette show to be given on the Main Line in the near future by Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Boyd, who have just returned from a successful tour of the northeast summer resorts. At a special morning performance of the Egyptian Theatre, Cynwyd, "Red Riding Hood" will be presented to delight small children—and their parents as well. The Boyds' performances are favorably compared to those of the Tony Sarg marionettes.

Refrigerator to Movie Goers

To stimulate interest in the Egyptian Theatre during August, the management offers, as an added inducement to its patrons, the gift of a Westinghouse Electric Refrigerator, through courtesy and co-operation of Penman J. Wood, Ardmore. It will be displayed in the lobby of the Cynwyd playhouse until the end of the month.

Cook Bros., Chris Koch End Business

Plumbing-Roofing Concern Goes Up, As Brothers Resume Work Separately.

Two business changes have taken place here recently. Friday of last week, Cook Brothers, roofing, plumbing, heating contractors, retired from business as a partnership. A referee in bankruptcy has not as yet been appointed. The firm was active since 1919 and at one time had twenty-four men employed, and maintained an office at Wayne.

George and Winfield Cook are carrying on plumbing and heating work individually and separately, and Harvey, the third brother, is handling roofing under the name of The Harvey Roofing Company, with temporary offices at the 104 Essex Avenue address which for years has been identified with the work of the firm.

Also of interest is the change of management of Chris Koch's drug store on Haverford Avenue midway between the Media, at Narberth Avenue, and Paul Shea's Pharmacy "At the Station." It was known to old-timers in Narberth as Doc Howard's drug store, before William S. Howard joined Mr. William H. Durbin in the real estate and insurance business on Narberth Avenue.

Mr. Koch, until recently proprietor of the store, was president of the Narberth Board of Trade, being succeeded by Col. A. A. Kiesler, of the Narberth Hardware Company, and most recently by Marios Chios, of the Arcadia Restaurant.

When Our Town went to press, details of the new management had not been worked out. But it was known that Mr. Koch had signed a bill of sale, that three new people were planning to conduct the store as a cut-price one, and that their first month's rent check was reasonably sure of being accepted by Chester P. Cook, of Merion, who is owner of the property.

The Pike, New Ice Cream and Sandwich Shop, Opens on 5th, with Ed Lowry

Distinctive in tone will be The Pike, a new ice cream, confectionery and sandwich shop on Montgomery Pike at the intersection of Old Gulph Road and Narberth and Sabine Avenues, Narberth. It will open next Wednesday, August 5.

Owner is Dan B. Ely, well known nationally and on the Main Line as a dancing instructor. Associated with him is Joseph Warden. Mr. and Mrs. Ely were Keith headliners for a number of years.

Dancing will be one of The Pike's attractions. Cabins of stained pine line the sides of the dance floor, and there will be no objection to Main Line youths cutting their initials in the wood as they eat their waffles, sandwiches, ice cream, etc.

The soda fountain will be in charge of Joseph Kenney, formerly of Davis' soda fountain in Narberth, and before that of Crane's Drug Store, and also in charge of John Singer, recently head soda dispenser at a Narberth chain drug store.

The Pike was formerly Main Line Headquarters of Jere Gorman, interior decorator. Its artistic appointments and original features will undoubtedly recommend it to hosts of Main Liners.

Ed Lowry, famed master of ceremonies at the Mastbaum Theatre, will be guest of honor at the opening night.

Narberth Boy Scouts Return from Delmont

The Narberth Troop of Boy Scouts returned home last Saturday after an enjoyable two weeks' vacation spent at Camp Delmont in charge of Scoutmaster George Schroder the first week and Walter Case the second week.

The scouts who attended camp were: Robert Hutchinson, George Schroder, Jr., Wayne Deaves, Robert Knapp, Norman and Paul Egolf, Thomas Laughlin, Martin and Walter Case, Jr.

The value of the efforts to absorb scout teachings at home is reflected when at camp. For outside of a few duties required of each scout which are necessary to camp life, a scout can play all day long and have only a good time to his credit, while other scouts return with something to show for their work at camp.

Merit badges were awarded to the following boys of the troop: George Schroder, Jr.; cooking, pioneering, wood carving, and reptile study; George was also elected to the highest camp honor, being made a member of the "Order of the Arrow."

Robert Hutchinson: Cooking, pioneering, wood carving, first aid and frontier emblem.

Thomas Laughlin: Cooking, pioneering, first aid, frontier emblem.

Martin Case: Cooking, wood carving, first aid and frontier emblem.

Robert Knapp: First aid and camp letters.

Walter Case caught the "honor fever" and won his camp letters and also the Red Cross Life Saving Emblem.

The following parents spent Sunday at camp, each bringing along a big, juicy watermelon and then the fun began: Mr. and Mrs. William Deaves, Mr. and Mrs. George Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. William Y. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. George O. Schroder and Mr. and Mrs. Horace B. Roberts.

Everything at camp this year was fine—even the grub was good and there was plenty of it. Only one thing marred a perfect score. Scoutmaster Schroder umpired a ball game, that is, till the sixth inning when the ball game turned into "Hare and Hounds," the ump being the hare. No weapons were barred. Balls, bats, even rocks, but when they caught the hare it was too late to finish the game. The ump is the owner of a beautiful cherry red now.

The troop is planning to visit Dr. Marshall's home on the Schuylkill today. Also a fishing trip to the shore in the big tent is being planned for sometime in August.

Regular weekly meetings of the troop are held at the scout cabin every Friday evening at 7:30 and all scouts and those desiring to join are invited to attend and have a good time.

Shelved by Politics

Scientific taxation, overshadowed by politics, is being shelved in the legislative corridors at Harrisburg, according to Dr. LeRoy A. King, of Narberth, professor of Educational Administration at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. King's remarks were made in introducing a speaker at Bennett Hall at the University last week.

Herb Fisher Victor

A Cynwyd Club star, Dr. Herbert Fischer, won the Central New Jersey men's tennis title for the second time by defeating Joe Oldhausen, of the Idle Hour Club, in the finals last Sunday, 6-2, 6-8, 6-4.

Is Planning Necessary?

Is a Planning Commission needed for Lower Merion Township and the Main Line?

This is the question which is before the Board of Commissioners, which a large group of citizens, acting informally as a Committee on a Plan for Lower Merion, hope will be decided by the Township solons in the affirmative in the not too distant future.

Additional evidence of the necessity of planning is accumulating. Just recently it became known that a branch of Mill Creek was being polluted by an overflow of sewage from Villanova College. The college has its separate disposal system which is not adequate to take care of its needs. This is an indication of the need for comprehensive planning. To properly remedy this condition, connections must be made between the Lower Merion and Radnor sewer systems, since the source of pollution is in Radnor Township. Mill Creek forms one of the loveliest pieces of natural beauty in Lower Merion and it is unthinkable that its waters should be polluted by lack of proper planning. This condition also indicates the extent to which the Main Line is one community and how its sections are all inter-related. Planners, as has been pointed out before, should work in co-operation with similar bodies in other Main Line Townships.

Another condition showing the need for planning is not of such recent development but nevertheless indicates the waste and inefficiency which arises from lack of planning. This may be seen in the business districts, notably in Ardmore. Uneven and narrow sidewalks, valuable pike frontage which is used for drives to permit access to the rear of stores, and none too attractive older buildings are some examples of what has happened from a lack of planning as applied to business districts.

If proper forethought has been exercised, a drive or alleyway might have been laid out in the rear of the business district, leading, say, from the Autocar Company to Church Road, which would have permitted access to all businesses fronting on the pike. As it is now, unloading of goods and delivery trucks increase the traffic problem on Lancaster Pike. The advantages of plenty of space for parking have been recognized in the new business development north of the railroad in Ardmore, and this section is reaping the benefits thereof.

A Taxation Muddle

After years of indifference, the State Legislature suddenly awoke to the necessity of giving relief to the local governments by changing the assessment laws. The job was done in haste and not very efficiently, as it leaves too much for counties to decide in not requiring a definite plan to be followed that would give assurance of a fair and just assessment, making it impossible to show favoritism and to build up a large political machine.

The Legislature also substituted a poll tax of a flat rate of fifty cents in place of the occupation tax levied by counties. The law became effective upon approval by the Governor and has caused much confusion as many districts had issued the 1931 duplicates and collectors received the occupation tax for the county and the collectors may require the taxables, who paid less than fifty cents to pay the difference.

In enacting tax legislation the Legislature has not shown as intimate knowledge of municipal government as might be expected with a majority of the legislators coming from the small cities and the country districts.

In enacting the assessment law, creating a county board of assessors appointed by the county commissioners, it is left to the counties to devise their own system for assessment, which may be good or bad. In Montgomery County, the start has not been good from the taxpayers' standpoint but is very good for the entrenched politicians. The Commissioners were quick to name the board of assessors and to appoint deputy and subordinate assessors. They should be a great aid in the campaign but may be a tremendous liability in the future.

A fair, equitable tax assessment is one of the greatest needs of local government. The county has an opportunity to supply it and the progress made so far indicates there is a great lack of knowledge of the whole assessment problem. The politicians readily sensed the opportunity to create many jobs which the taxpayers will protest when they come to pay the bills.—The Conshohocken Recorder.

News Shorts

Honor golfer. Walter Hamilton, of Rosemont, who qualified on the Valley Forge course for the United States public links golf tournament to be held at St. Paul, Minn., next week, was the guest at a testimonial dinner given by the John Winthrop Post, American Legion, of Bryn Mawr, on Wednesday evening at the St. Davids Golf Club. Lacey E. Gane, of Bryn Mawr, was the toastmaster and speakers included Guier Wright, commander of the Post; James Winthrop and H. J. Harrison. Mr. Hamilton will leave for St. Paul this week-end.

A new pilot. Lyndall Hamilton, son of Dr. W. L. Hamilton, of Malvern, has just passed his final test as an amateur aviator and has been granted a transport pilot's license.

Mrs. Bok's gift. The contract has been let for the Annie Russel Theatre at Rollins College, which is the gift of Mrs. Edward W. Bok, of Merion. The building alone will cost $100,000 and equipment will be additional. It was given by Mrs. Bok in honor of her life-long friend, Annie Russell.

Delegate. Fred Talone, of Bryn Mawr, a member of the John Winthrop Post, has been chosen as a delegate to the Pennsylvania State Convention of the American Legion to be held at Easton in August. Henry Farrow was named as an alternate.

Police chiefs. Charles P. Smith, Superintendent of Police of Lower Merion Township, was elected first vice president of the State Association of Police Chiefs at the convention held at Pittsburgh last week. Chief Samuel Seigle, of Haverford Township, was named to the executive committee.

Raise $10,000. The Main Line Federation of Churches has announced that its goal of $10,000 for summer relief of needy families on the Main Line has been reached. The money will be expended to provide food, clothing and hospital expenses.

Trafficator. A new invention in traffic control signals, known as a traficator, has been installed at the intersection of Lancaster Pike and Radnor Road, in Radnor Township. A car passing over Radnor Road will automatically change the light from red to green. This new control is expected to speed up the traffic and avoid the long delays in changing of the light which hitherto held up strings of cars along the pike.

In the interests of peace. An international peace festival was held last Saturday night at Bryn Mawr College by nearly 100 students of the Bryn Mawr Summer School for Women Workers in Industry. Appearing in native costumes, the students presented songs and dances of many lands. Among them, Highland flings, Irish jigs, Negro spirituals, Italian tarenbelle, Spanish serenades, German spinning songs, Danish dances, English country dances and folk songs.

Rob gas station. Just as John Wilkins was opening the gas station at Chatham Road and Lancaster Pike, Ardmore, for business on Sunday morning, three youths entered, asked the best route to Philadelphia, and before he could answer, covered him with a gun and demanded the contents of the safe. Taking $18 they jumped into the attendant's automobile and drove away. The car was found later in the afternoon by Lower Merion police on Argyle Road, near Wynnewood Road, Ardmore.

Calf versus car. In order to avoid running down a stray calf on the Perkiomen Road, near Collegeville, Officer William Carlin, of the Lower Merion police, drove his automobile down an eight-foot embankment into the side of a cowshed and wrecked his car. Carlin and his wife, who was in the machine, were unhurt. He is said to be considering suing the owner of the calf for damages.

THE FIRESIDE

As the end of July approaches one begins to look about to see what the early fall has to offer in the way of garden parties and flower shows. After Labor Day many of the Borough residents will be returning from their vacations at the seashore and mountains to settle down to a winter of interesting events.

In the middle of September, that is to say about the 18th, in the afternoon, an attractive lawn fete will be held in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Bailey at "Highpoint," on Old Lancaster Road, Merion. This fete will be for the benefit of the Woman's Homeopathic Hospital and there will be a cake and candy table, a utility table, a fortune teller, music and bridge for those who care to play. There will also be a fashion show in connection with the fete. Full details will be announced later.

On September 18 also the Woman's Club of Ardmore and the Ardmore Nature Club are sponsoring a flower show for the amateur gardeners and this includes all flower lovers of the Main Line. There will be classes for several varieties of fall flowers and prizes awarded to the winners. There will also be a special class for children. This is not just an Ardmore show although it is to be held in the Woman's Club, but is a show for all the flower lovers along the Main Line. Professional growers will be allowed to exhibit but will not be awarded any prizes. This is a show primarily for the amateur flower lover. Mrs. Cecil H. Vaughan, of Linwood Avenue, is the chairman. Full details will be forthcoming later.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin J. Boal, of New Orleans, La., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Miller, of Haverford Avenue, this summer.

Don't the weeds grow?

The same wonderful growing conditions for cultivated plants make good growing conditions for native plants, which we call weeds.

An English horticulturist, Dean Hole, said a weed was merely a plant out of place.

We want plants from the four corners of the world to grow in our gardens, but do not want the plants that belong there to thrive. The solution is to kill off the natural growth and nurture the more desirable plants. This process then is called weeding.

The black snakeroot (Cimicifuga racemosa) is striking in the woodland just now. A white plume on a stem from three to five feet long, it flowers in the shade but is better kept to the woodland garden as its flower has a disagreeable odor at close range.

Annual phlox should be more generously planted in annual beds and borders. It is showy, coming in a wide range of colors, requires no care except sowing the seed in a sunny spot and keeps flowering until frost if the flower stems are cut. Allowed to seed it will spring up in the beds the following season—here and there—but the colors will vary.

Dwarf annual phlox makes a pretty window plant for fall. Seeds started now may be transplanted to pots when quite small and brought indoors before frost. The same applies to dwarf white alyssum, dwarf blue ageratum and other annuals of dwarf habit that will serve as pot plants for sunny windows.

"Pop" Wilmore, a famous dahlia grower, said: "If you won't disbud dahlias don't grow them." Most fanciers will agree that "Pop" was right. Disbudding means to remove all side buds down the stem and leave only the terminal bud to develop. And cut the flower with a long stem. The plant will branch out at leaf intersections below and the process of disbudding may be repeated throughout the season.

Dahlias are better grown without fertilizer until they reach the flowering stage, which should be about late August or early September. At that time alternate feedings of fine bone meal and hardwood ashes will give better flowers for this year and better tubers for next year.

Keep hybrid-tea and hybrid perpetual roses cut back by taking buds with long stems and continue the use of Massey dust for fungus and arsenate of lead spray for Japanese beetles and other leaf chewers. The cooler days of October will find no beetles and will give us some of the season's best roses.

Hold Annual Picnic

The Italian - American Citizens' League of Ardmore held its annual picnic at Hartley's Park, Perkiomen, last Sunday. Sports and games, consisting of baseball, races, a macaroni contest, bocce game and swimming races comprised the day's program. Guiseppe Valentine is president of the Italian - American Citizens' League which comprises 400 members.

Playground News

Baseball

The first half of the Junior League season came to an end on Monday morning. The Wildcats have been playing good ball consistently and consequently finished in first place. The standing of the league is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Wildcats	8	1	.891
Eagles	5	4	.560
Jr. Aces	3	6	.333
Park Jrs.	2	7	.236

In the Senior League there is a close battle for the league leading position. The Midgets and the Cards are tied for first place and will meet today for the championship. Much interest is centered on this game and it is expected that Kane or Burgess will pitch for the Cards and "Iron Man" Miller for the Midgets.

Volley Ball Tournament

Tom Donahue captained his volley ball team to win from Carl Blessing in the finals of the tournament held last week on the playground. The following were entered: First team—Gallagher, Nealy, Finn, A. Donahue, Fretz, Hansell; second team—Joe Baker, Joe King, Henshaw, Hemsley, Evans, Wright; third team—Asbury, Coward, Guy Mosteller, Betty Knebel, Ethel Voight, Keim, Jeanette Murphy; fourth team—Tom Donahue, Allen Jones, Louise Kneubler, Shea, Thaysen, Burgess; fifth team—Blessing Doyle, Cooke, Sheller, Hess, Abbot; sixth team—Bill Rotenhouse, Ace Clark, Hess, Bruner, Callahan, Maston; seventh team—Dick Rittenhouse, Anderson, Clevenger, Walzer, Maltby, Hanser; eighth team—Virena Miller, Roseler, McCarlan, Casey, Lees, Leaby.

Donahue, with his evenly balanced team, looked like a sure winner, but Blessing, Joe Baker and Coward's team put up plenty of fight to make it an intensely interesting tournament.

Attendance

The attendance at the playground has been very much better this year due to the varied activity. In the morning the attendance has averaged 110 while in the afternoon it runs between 170 and 180.

Last Friday afternoon the first tournament for the older girls of the Community Playground was played off for the championship in paddle tennis. The teams consisted of Alice Callahan, Anna Donahue, Louise Kriebel, Jane McCartan, Evelyn Hansel, Julie Hess, Ingaborg Thaysan, Emily Hoffman, Mary Slete, Jean Boxman, Joe Baker, Anna Brennan, Lois Maltby, Louise Magee, Jeanette Murphy, Laura Scheller, Gladys Sabronich, Betty Jane Bailey, Helen Hansel and Varena Miller.

After the first round had been played those eligible for the semi-finals were Ingaborg Thaysan, Jeanette Murphy, Laura Scheller, Emily Hoffman, Gladys Sabronich and Betty Jane Bailey.

Needles to say the semi-finals proved to be very interesting and the scores were very close.

In the final round Ingaborg Thaysan and Emily Hoffman successfully vanquished their opponents, Jeanette Murphy and Laura Scheller, by the score of 5-3.

On Wednesday afternoon the girls' volley ball and baseball teams from the Community Playground played the Haverford Playground teams. The lineup for the baseball team was Lois Maltby, Myrtle Gregory, Jesse Maltby, Laura Scheller, Varina Miller, Alice Callahan, Frieda Roessler, Anna Roessler and Kathryn Wright.

The members of the volley ball team were Betty Kriebel, Ingaborg Thaysan, Mary Case, Frieda Roessler, Anna Roessler, Jeanette Murphy, Ethel Voight, Mary Marianna, Jesse Maltby, Gladys Sabronich and Alice Callahan. The standing of the teams in the volley ball league at the present time is as follows:

Betty Kriebel	5	points
Ethel Voight	2	"
Alice Callahan	3	"
Lois Maltby	2	"

In the baseball league, Lois Maltby's team is successfully leading.

Arcadia Ramblers Down

Narberth 7-1 Last Week

By DAVE CASEY

A big fifth inning, in which they scored five runs, aided the Arcadia Ramblers of Philadelphia in their crushing defeat of Gene Davis' Narberth nine last Wednesday night. Jim McKee was breezing along nicely on the mound for Narberth when, after one was out in the fifth, Thornton and McConnell singled and Mahoney walked, filling the bases. McSorley then rolled one at Walker, who threw will do first, and Gilfillan's dilatory method of retrieving the ball allowed three of the visitors to cross the plate. Volk then singled and Reed tripled, adding two more runs.

Although the Arcadians scored two more in the sixth they were not necessary as "Reds" Haigh was retiring the Narberth batsmen with ease, allowing only five hits. Four of these blows were credited to Harry Francis, the brilliant little centerfielder, whose playing was the one bright spot of the evening for the Davismen.

New County Poll Tax Creates Perplexities

Tax collectors throughout the county are in a quandry over a new flat rate poll tax of fifty cents which replaces the three-mill occupation tax levied for county use.

The new tax, established by a bill recently enacted by the State Legislature, has the effect of creating a slight rise in the total taxes paid by each individual.

Confusion has arisen since in some municipalities in the county, tax bills have already been sent out which do not include this new tax.

In the borough of Narberth, all tax bills were sent out a few weeks ago with the old three-mill county occupation tax among their items. The borough Tax Collector, Edwin P. Dold, is away on vacation and so no explanation of what would be done in Narberth was forthcoming.

In Lower Merion what course will be followed is not yet determined. Township Treasurer Peter C. Hess stated yesterday that some of the county bills had already been sent out from his office while others were not yet made out. A public statement on the matter was promised by Mr. Hess as soon as he knows what procedure his office will follow in the matter.

The new poll tax does not affect the county millage tax on assessed real estate valuation.

Lansdowne Saturday's Victim As Davismen Hold Lead

which are good for distance but sadly lack accuracy, and Rubincam's throw home after McCauley's fly, which got past catcher King, produced the tainted tallies.

Narberth piled up their lead early in the game scoring one in the first on passes to Francis and Gilfillan, Slaughter's sacrifice and Babb's fly.

Lansdowne tied this one in their half, however, on Freddy Wood's double and Leuthes' single, but Reynolds settled down and retired the next three men on two infield rollers and a strikeout.

Narberth forged ahead again in the second when Harry King tripled and came over the plate on Reynold's single. The Davismen threatened again in the third but a fast double play, Wood to Smith to Sullivan smothered this thrust. However, Narberth came back with a bang in the fourth piling up three runs on singles by Walker, Reynolds, Gilfillan, Slaughter and Babb. After this big inning McCauley, the Lansdowne hurler, tightened up and allowed but one hit, a double by King, in the remaining five innings.

Lansdowne scored their last counter in the eighth on successive one-base hits by Leuthes, Sullivan and Dick Kearney.

Rose's Double in Ninth Wins Game for Juniors

By DAVE CASEY

Having missed connections with Gene Davis' expeditionary force to Lansdowne last Saturday, your correspondent spent the afternoon watching Harvey Cook's Narberth Juniors in their struggle with the Jefferson Dye Works team at the playground.

The fans who attended this exhibition were rewarded by seeing a thrilling game which was won in the last inning by the fighting Juniors. Going into the last inning with the score 3-2 against them the Juniors showed their fighting spirit when, with one out, Jerry Casey slapped a single to left, "Och" Smith then rolled one down the third base line and was safe on Quinn's error. These mishaps unsteadied the visiting pitcher and he walked Hager, filling the bases. Seaver Rose then stepped to the plate and came through with a crashing double to deep left that scored Casey and Smith and won the game.

The game was marred by the constant umpire baiting of the visitors with Kane, the catcher, as the chief offender. This player's continuous arguments with Umpire Dick Blessing did much to unsteady pitcher Carty and aided largely to his own team's defeat.

Pitchers Casey and Carty held the opposing hitters well in hand throughout the game. The former, although allowing ten hits, kept them well scattered after a bad first inning, while the visiting hurler held six of the Juniors hitless throughout the game, three members of the home club doing all the effective hitting. These three, whose bats made possible the victory were Dick Gallagher, with three safe clouts, and Jerry Casey and Seaver Rose who each had a brace of safeties. The box score:
